

to work at an office. That's because to provide room and board is unlimited. So it is difficult for young people to continue to provide room and board because almost of them don't have so much money.

Above two reasons. I think we should use money or time for ourselves and enjoy our limited time.